

Why have we gone to Brussels?

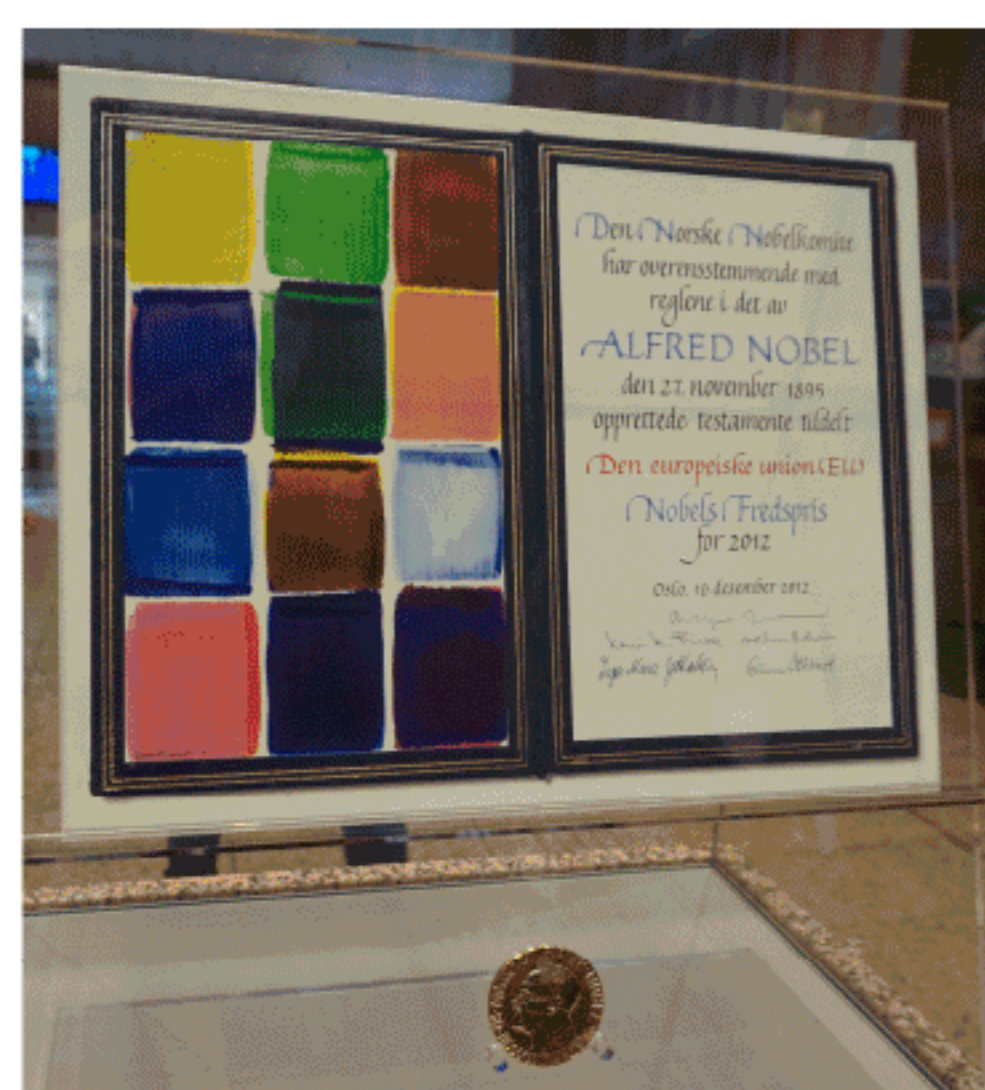

In the very beginning of our project, we did not meet in one of our partners' schools but in Brussels. It's an unusual start of such a project, nevertheless, it seemed to be useful.

the coordinators group in the council of the EU

Having accomplished our first project meeting including a visit of the European institutions,

- we have learned about future employment policies and future actions against youth unemployment;
- we have found out about strategic working sectors for the EU in the coming years;
- we have gathered information on possible support for our students (scholarships, programs, etc.);
- we have been invited to share our project's results in upcoming European conferences and discussions on secondary education and youth unemployment.
